VOCABULARY:

photo light

photocopy – n. a paper copy of a document or picture that is made with a special machine (copier or photocopier). Mrs. Darby made a photocopy of the permission slip.

photograph – n. a picture made by a camera (also called a photo). Mom placed several photographs from our vacation in an album.

photon – n. a tiny particle of light or electromagnetic radiation. The famous scientist Albert Einstein conducted research related to the photon.

photosynthesis – n. the process by which a green plant turns water and carbon dioxide into food when the plant is exposed to light. Photosynthesis requires light energy that is typically provided by the sun.

telephoto – n. a lens for a camera that makes far away objects appear to be closer. Dad uses a telephoto lens to take photographs of birds without getting close to them.

im- in- il- not

incapable – adj. not able to do something; not having the necessary skill or ability to perform a specific act or function. The injured bird is now incapable of flight.

ineligible – adj. not allowed to do or be something; legally disqualified. McDonalds employees are ineligible to play their Monopoly game.

imbalance – n. a state or condition in which different things do not occur in equal or proper amounts. There is a definite imbalance of power in countries ruled by dictators.

illiterate – adj. not knowing how to read or write; having or showing a lack of knowledge about a particular subject. When it comes to politics, I'm completely illiterate.

illogical – adj. not thinking about things in a reasonable or sensible way; unreasoning. The idea that I'd have time to do four hours of homework on a day when I have a football game is completely illogical.

SPELLING:

*short i words with closed first syllables (the second syllable of each word is unstressed, so the vowel makes a schwa sound that is represented by a, e, i, o, or u).
